

Kent Island Library - Case Study

"Libraries are becoming less about materials and more about the experience of connecting and collaborating with the community,"

The Kent Island Library, Maryland, was recently renovated & extended by 12,620 sq. ft. An expanded adult, children's, and teens collection is housed in the newly added space with the original, renovated space now boasting multiple new meeting/collaborative rooms, classrooms, a makerspace area, and smart storage.

MUZO was delighted to be invited to manufacture a series of custom, size, and shape, Versatilis mobile tables to fit the exact needs of the project. With our in-house powder coating facility, we also responded with ease to the request for White legs, which combine with the aluminum silver table frame to create a fresh, modern aesthetic. The multi-functional, Versatilis tables feature our unique Jewel Casters, which provide 100% stability as well as ease of use & leveling features. Where mobility is not required, Versatilis feet feature but can be swapped out for casters at any time, with ease.

MUZO Bebop Active seats, upholstered in eye-catching fabrics, are scattered throughout the space and bring a fun, vibrant aspect to the overall design.

Our sincere thanks to Kim Miller of Liberty Systems and Architects Becker Morgan Group for putting their faith in MUZO furniture. Kent Island is now a stunning, modern community Library.
